Finishes

Metal lacquers

Lacquered metal panels are finished with 8 to 10 layers strictly hand applied by skilled artisans. The feel of the texture is homogeneous and the shaded effect makes every panel unique. The lacquered metal fi nish has excellent resistance to abrasions, scratches and stains.

Clay

The special finish on this surface is strictly hand applied to composite panels by skilled artisans. Once the basic surface, made of natural materials such as quartz powder and pure, salt-free mineral sand with controlled granulometry, is dry, a number of layers of transparent acrylic coating are applied: this protects the surface from grease and dirt.

Marble

Marble tops are available with two finishes that exalt their purity and texture. Polished marble: this marble is polished by buffing machines and scraped to make the previously smoothed surface glisten. Brushed marble: the brushed finish exalts the purity of the marble and its grain. The process is carried out by grinding without corrosive or chemical substances, which reproduces a softly eroded effect that brings out the beauty of the marble.
